Red China Showdown Proposed by Russians

Pravda Hurls Barrage of Charges at Mao

World Meeting of Red Parties to Settle Feud Asked

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union finally lashed back at Red China today, calling for a showdown meeting of the world's Communist parties to thrash out communism's big feud.

Breaking a six-month silence, the Kremlin accused the Chinese of trying to run the Red bloc, to stir political unrest in the Soviet Union, to sabotage Premier Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence and to obtain nuclear weapons at any cost.

The Soviet reply occupied nearly an entire edition of the Communist party newspaper Pravda. In a front-page editorial, Pravda called Mao Tse-tung's regime "the main danger to the unity of the world Communist movement."

Final Straw Tuesday
Pravda said the final straw was Tuesday when Peking called Khrushchev "the greatest capitulationist in history" and demanded that Communists in and out of the Soviet Union repudiate his policies.

The party organ called the attack a "terrible insult to our party and the entire Soviet people."

"It showed conclusively that the leaders of the Communist party of China have passed all limits in their political struggle against the world Communist movement," the editorial continued, "and have chosen the Communist party of the Soviet Union and the Soviet Union as the main target for their attacks."

Chinese Speech
The remainder of the paper contained an anti-Chinese speech by Mikhail A. Suslov, the Soviet party's chief theoretician. The speech had been kept secret since Suslov delivered it to a meeting of the Soviet Communist party's central committee Feb. 14.

Accusing Red China of "nationalist arrogance" and "great power, egotistical interests," Suslov said: "There is no longer any doubt that Peking is steering a course toward a split among the Communist parties, toward the setting up of factions and groups hostile to Marxism-Leninism."

Proposes Meeting of Reds
Although Suslov's speech was laced with harsh language, he did not propose reading Peking out of the Communist movement, as Stalin had tried to do to Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia. Instead, Suslov proposed a meeting of the world's Communist parties "to discuss the basic problems of our time and to hold the broadest possible exchange of opinions in the interest of surmounting the difficulties that have arisen in the Communist movement."

The blast came while Khrushchev was visiting Hungary. The Soviet premier indicated public annoyance with his Chinese critics on Wednesday by saying Peking wanted to spread world revolution on an empty stomach.

"Isn't it better to have good goulash?" Khrushchev asked applauding Budapest factory workers.

Hungary's Communist party came to his support today, accusing the Chinese of "weakening the unity of Communist countries and helping imperialism against the socialist world."

Goulart In Flight

Ex-Brazilian Chief Reported In Argentina

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Victorious army leaders of Brazil's anti-Communist revolution said deposed President Joao Goulart fled into Argentina today, but Argentine border officials said they had not seen the ousted leftist.

An army spokesman said early today Goulart had left his ranch at Sao Borja, on the Argentine border, bound by car for Buenos Aires and "already is in Argentine territory." Goulart was reported accompanied by his family and Gen. Assis Brasil, chief of his personal military staff.

Authorities in Argentine border provinces said, however, Goulart had not entered the country and that border patrols were alerted for any clandestine crossing. Airport control towers in Paraguay and Uruguay also were watching for him.

The military leaders of the swift, almost bloodless revolution, who charged that Goulart's leftist policies were leading Brazil into communism, sent six army officers to Sao Borja to arrest him if he remained at his ranch.

Goulart, abandoning his vow to fight to the death, vanished Thursday after flying out of Porto Alegre, his last redoubt in Brazil's deep south. Informants said he gave up to prevent the bloodshed of a futile resistance.

The deposed president had fled to the southern seaport, capital of his home state of Rio Grande do Sul, earlier in the day from Rio de Janeiro. Army troops were converging on Rio then in the last stages of the two-day revolution in which only two deaths were reported.

In Brasilia the inland capital, new President Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli, president of the Chamber of Deputies was sworn in as Goulart's constitutional successor by Congress Thursday after Senate President Auro Andrade declared the presidency vacant. Mazzilli, 54, a conservative politician, immediately set about forming a government to try to cope with Brazil's staggering budget deficit, rampant inflation, labor unrest and the need for profound social reform, especially land redistribution.

President Johnson sent Mazzilli his "warmest good wishes" and expressed admiration for the way Brazilians settled their difficulties "within the framework of constitutional democracy and without civil strife."

The world Communist press denounced Goulart's overthrow as a plot hatched in the United States.

Greater Use Of English In Mass Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—American prelates of the Roman Catholic Church have drawn up detailed recommendations for greater use of English in Mass. Prompt approval from Rome is expected.

About 200 archbishops and bishops and four of the five American cardinals met Thursday in a secret session at Catholic University to approve the texts and the extent of English in the Mass, sacraments and the breviary.

Final approval of the new translations was requested of the Ecumenical Council's commission for the liturgy. "When this is forthcoming," said the Most Rev. John F. Dearden, archbishop of Detroit, "they will be put into effect in the United States as soon as possible."

Archbishop Dearden is chairman of the U.S. Bishops' Commission on Liturgy which decided on the recommendations last Jan. 8 at a meeting in Philadelphia.

The impetus for greater use of the vernacular—and consequently less use of Latin—came last Dec. 4 from the liturgical reform constitution adopted by the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

Although the recommendations approved Thursday are a secret, authoritative sources report the vernacular will not apply to the "Canon," the most sacred portion of the Mass.

The speculation is that the most likely date for the revised

The victims, who were found in their beds, were identified as Grace Perkins, 64, Elizabeth Ann Perkins, 2½, John Philip Perkins, 1½, and Betty Perkins, 6 months.

The mother, Virginia, 21, escaped uninjured.

The Highway Patrol said cause of the blaze was not determined.

Man Reared by Hoffa Indicted

Accused of Trying To Bribe Juror

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A young man raised by James R. Hoffa has been indicted on charges of offering a $25,000 bribe to a member of the jury which convicted the Teamsters Union president of jury tampering.

Charles L. O'Brien, 29, business agent for a Detroit Teamster local, is accused of offering the money March 9 to Callie Key, a Negro widow, if she would swear Hoffa did not receive a fair trial.

O'Brien posted $15,000 bond and was released pending arraignment.

As a child, O'Brien was taken into Hoffa's home after his father, a Kansas City truck driver, was killed. Hoffa recently said O'Brien is "a boy who I have raised since he was a baby." O'Brien, his wife and their two children live in Hoffa's Detroit home.

The alleged bribe offer took place five days after Hoffa was convicted here and three days

Blood Drive Five Pints Under Goal

The Northern Ohio Red Cross Bloodmobile was just five pints short of meeting its 125-pint quota when it visited Salem yesterday.

An all-day rain and an insufficient number of registered donors were blamed for the canteen's failure.

Louis J. Raymond, chairman of the North Columbiana County Red Cross blood program, termed the collection "satisfactory under the circumstances." A record collection of 169 pints was made at this time last year, he said.

There were 40 "walk-ins," and only 10 persons were deferred by attending physicians. Fourteen persons cancelled appointments, and 14 others did not show up for theirs, Raymond said.

The staff meal was prepared by the Women of the Moose, headed by Mrs. A. R. Stark. The bloodmobile was stationed at the United Steelworkers Hall on Prospect St.

Dr. R. J. McConnor, one of the attending physicians, was called by a patient, and operations at the Bloodmobile ceased until he was replaced by Dr. Paul Corso.

Mrs. Pete Montelone was chairman of nurses, Mrs. Lillian Dusenberry was chairman of staff aids and Mrs. Gilbert Edgerton and Mrs. Neil Reich served as co-ordinates.

The bloodmobile will return to Salem June 9, with the Eagles Lodge sponsoring the canteen.

The two became eligible for citizenship March 29.

Rusk Pledges Aid to Brazil

Says U.S. to Work Closely With Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the United States is ready "to work very closely" with the new government of Brazil in tackling Brazil's difficult problems of economic and social development.

President Johnson had sent a message to new Brazilian President Ranieri Mazzilli Thursday night, congratulating him on Brazil's having solved its government change within that nation's constitutional framework.

This established U.S. recognition of the new regime following the ouster of President Joao Goulart.

Rusk told a news conference that Goulart had been overthrown by a combination of forces representing fears in the Brazilian Congress, armed forces, and among state governments that constitutional government in the country was in danger.

"They moved to insure the constitutional process," Rusk said. Goulart's enemies had accused him of leading the country down the road to communism and U.S. officials had become alarmed about Communists moving into positions of power in Brazil.

Undersecretary of State George Ball today described the political upheaval in Brazil as "a rather remarkable event and not at all the usual coup" which frequently occurs in Latin America.

Ball asserted that "all elements of the country, the military, state governors, Congress" had combined to force Goulart out of office.

Actually, he said, they were acting "to preserve constitutional government by stopping efforts to undermine the constitution."

Speaking on the NBC television program "Today," Ball said the Brazilians now face "very difficult problems" particularly those arising out of inflation. He said it will "take enormous efforts" for the Brazilians to get their economic house in order.

Over 10,000 Walk Off Jobs

Soft Coal Mines In Six States Idle

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An intra-union dispute kept soft coal mines in six states idle today. There was little hope of a solution before Saturday at the earliest.

The dispute, which early this week affected Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, spread Thursday to Kentucky, Illinois and Indiana.

Thousands of miners stayed away from their jobs, but officials of the United Mine Workers Union said the confused pattern of the strikes made it difficult to estimate the exact number.

It appeared, however, that at least 10,000 were out in the six states.

Workers at at least seven mines in Belmont and Harrison counties, Ohio, are involved.

An estimated 2,000 miners are said to be staying off the job in the Hanna Coal Co. deep mines at New Athens, Bradford No. 1 and 2 and Y & O Coal Co. at Cadiz, and Jessie Mine of the North American Coal Co., all in Harrison County, and North American's Powhattan Mines No. 1 and 3 in Belmont County.

At issue is discontent over a contract signed last week between the UMW and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association. It was the first contract negotiated by W.A. Boyle, president of the UMW for less than two years, and provided a $2-wage increase that raises the daily base rate to $26.25.

Miners, however, say they don't want a wage increase, only better fringe benefits and seniority protection.

The new contract provides a

Scared Holdup Man Robs Mantua Bank

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—"You have 10 seconds to fill it up," a gunman said Thursday as he threw a briefcase onto a teller's counter in a Mantua branch of the First National Bank of Ravenna.

Then the robber apparently got frightened, reached over the counter and grabbed $494 in cash.

Witnesses said the holdup man ran outside and jumped in a waiting car, which a blonde woman drove away.

Frank Lang of Mantua told authorities he chased the car into a dead-end street but let the pair escape when he saw a gun, believed to be a .38-caliber pistol.

Gen. MacArthur Still Critical

Some Improvement
Noted In Condition

WASHINGTON (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur's condition remains critical, but the emergency treatment started Thursday to try to meet the problem of diminished kidney action is "functioning quite satisfactorily," his doctors reported today.

A medical bulletin from Walter Reed Army Hospital at 9:30 a.m. also said there has been no bleeding from the general's esophagus for the past 20 hours. Therefore a tube that has been inserted through his throat and esophagus, into his stomach is being removed this morning.

"However," the bulletin added, "his condition remains critical." The bulletin reported that the five-star general "passed a fair night," and that his blood pressure remained at 110-60—presumably at about the same point as late Thursday afternoon—and that his pulse was at 96, still somewhat elevated, and his temperature at 99.2, just slightly above normal.

The doctors were fighting to give their patient sorely needed time to recover vital processes.

In admiration, they credited his stamina through 11 days of critical condition to "his heart, his constitution and his will to live."

His chances are not considered good, but the decline in kidney and heart function reported Thursday morning stabilized by afternoon.

The 84-year-old general has survived three major operations two of them emergencies, in 32

New Highway Map of Ohio To Be Issued

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's first official highway map since 1962 will be larger and have seven or eight smaller maps on the back. It will be in four colors.

Several state agencies are working together on it and hope to have a half-million ready for distribution at the state and county fairs and elsewhere this summer.

Printing of the first 500,000 is expected to cost $50,000 or more. This compares with $30,000 for a half-million of the 1962 maps. Officials hope to let a printing contract before May 1.

The road map itself will be the same size as the last one, but the sheet on which it is printed will be widened to about 44 inches.

Major street outline maps for eight of the state's largest cities have been moved from the back to the front, and six others discarded.

The seven or eight smaller maps on the back will show location of agriculture, industry, historical sites, recreation spots, transportation outlets, water resources and educational facilities.

These will be reprinted—the number depending on advance demand—with additional state promotional material on the back, and used to answer requests about these subjects.

The back also will have color photographs of Ohio's major attractions. The present "Ohio in the Civil War" and "Ohio in the War of 1812" sections will be included in the historical sites map.

For the first time, state development officials are joining the Highway Department in planning the map. Agriculture, education and natural resources officials also had a hand.

Since the end of 1962, the state has been using up the last 35,000 - copy edition of the 1962 map. Gov. James A. Rhodes' name was printed over that of his predecessor, Michael V. DiSalle.

Thirty-eight other farmers, named county winners in the Efficient Dairy Production project, received certificates from the Ohio Dairymen's Association.

Farmers were honored for their records in milk production; their feeding, breeding, and sanitation practices; and their participation in community activities. The supervisors won recognition for their overall efficiency in collecting and compiling testing data.

One farmer and two supervisors from each of four districts won plaques. The farmers were Richard Wade of West Liberty, Northwest district; Edward A. Struna of Williamsfield, Northeast district; Wilmer C. Funderburg of New Carlisle, Southwest district; and Vincent West of Dillonvale, Southeast district.

Supervisors receiving plaques were Melvin K. Barnhart, Clark County, and Roger Rhude, Warren County, Southwest district; Mrs. C. E. Schroer, Auglaize County, and Victor Boroff, Mercer County, Northwest district; Lowell Beyeler, Wayne County, and John E. Popham, Knox County, Northeast district; and H. S. Pennell, Monroe - Noble-Guernsey Counties, and Leward Durrig, Belmont County, Southeast district.

A brief description of the operation of each plaque-winning dairyman follows:

Richard Wade maintains a herd of about 80 Holsteins on his 430-acre farm. His herd averaged 16,779 pounds of milk and 616 pounds of fat last year. Total milk produced last year was 1,300,372 pounds. Wade has a loose housing type setup and milk is cooled in a bulk tank. His herd has been on a testing program for the last five years.

Edward Struna operates 430 acres and keeps a herd of about 50 Holstein cows. His cows are housed in a stanchion-type building and milk is cooled in a bulk tank. His herd produced 624,878 pounds of milk last year with an average per cow of 14,333 pounds of milk and 527 pounds of fat. Struna's herd has been on test for the last 13 years.

Wilmer Funderburg has a Holstein herd which has been on test for 13 years. His 28 cows last year averaged 14,879 pounds of milk and 556 pounds of fat, producing a total of 386,300 pounds of milk. Funderburg operates 202 acres, has a loose housing setup for his herd and cools his milk in a bulk tank.

Vincent West houses his herd of 35 Holsteins in a stanchion-type barn. He farms 210 acres and his herd has been on test for 14 years. Last year the herd averaged 14,244 pounds of milk and 481 pounds of fat per cow. Milk produced last year totaled 467,134 pounds. In the 14 years the herd has been on test, the average production per cow has increased 6,838 pounds of milk and 176 pounds of fat.

Sites for new facilities at the Agricultural Experiment Station, Wooster, were visited Tuesday by the Ohio Capital Planning and Improvement Advisory Board.

The group is studying all proposals for capital improvements, funds for which were appropriated by the General Assembly from monies made available by passage of a $250 million bond issue.

New facilities which have been approved for construction with bond issue funds at the Station include a grain storage and feed processing building, a research operations service building, new greenhouses and headhouse, poultry plant facilities and an animal, dairy and poultry science building. Farmer Retailing Growing, Research Study Shows Consumers' tastes for fresh, high quality produce are supporting a growing retail market among Ohio farmers, according to M. E. Cravens and J. E. Jeffries, agricultural economists at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station, Wooster.

The researchers found that 95 farmers operating retail produce stands in Franklin County rang up sales totaling nearly $500,000 during 1961.

Another study made among a cross section of Franklin County farmers showed that another $110,000 worth of products was sold at retail by farmers having no market or stand. These sales were mostly eggs sold directly from the house or barn to neighbors who knew that the products were for sale.

Although the total is not large when compared with the total of $14.3 million farm product sales in the county during the year, or $20-25 million estimated produce sales in retail food stores, it is important to those who sell to consumers.

Some individual farmers earn most of their income from retail sales of farm products, and many consumers depend on these outlets. Further, farm retailing gives work to a large amount of family labor. This also makes good use of the better locations for retail selling.

One group liked the independence and freedom of being their own boss which they found in retailing produce. Others didn't like the fact that they were forced to cater to a large number of customers at odd hours and on days suitable to the customers.

Despite the pros and cons, however, the researchers say that this method of selling seems to be growing in popularity in Franklin and other Ohio counties.

Hickory, Dickory Dock, Mouse Runs Up Cop

ROLLINGSFORD, N.H. (AP) —Hickory, dickory, dock, the mouse ran up the cop—and shook up what had been a fairly routine session in Municipal Court.

Officer Ernest Gagnon leaped to his feet in the midst of a traffic case Wednesday night and began slapping his thigh.

"A mouse ran up my leg," he muttered when Judge Ovide Viel cocked a questioning eyebrow.

Attorney Steven Wallace testified he saw the mouse playing around Gagnon's feet shortly before the incident.

While Gagnon was making his explanations to the court, the mouse made its escape.

'Who Cares?,' They Say

Police investigators reconstructing what happened during the murder of a woman in the borough of Queens, New York City, were staggered by discovery that 38 witnesses could have called them, yet no one did call until the victim was dead.

The victim was a 28-year-old woman returning to her apartment late at night after work. The 38 neighbors who heard her scream for help were in bed. They got up, looked out and went back to bed. One shouted, "Let that girl alone!"

Questioned, they all had the same story. They didn't want to get involved. Three times the murderer assaulted his victim with a knife, trying to stab her to death. Three times his victim begged for help. Three times the neighbors disregarded her plea.

They didn't want to get involved.

QUEENS POLICE point out that a telephone call after the first assault could have brought help to the murder scene in two minutes. That is how long it took when they finally were notified by a next-door neighbor that the murder victim was lying in the hall outside her apartment.

Even then there was fear of involvement. The neighbor asked a more distant neighbor to call the police. He didn't want to be involved.

It is evident between the lines that there must have been a special cause for misgivings about involvement in this episode, perhaps the fact the murder victim was a young woman who manages a bar.

But it is just as evident between the lines that other human beings in this instance of cold-blooded murder, apparently committed by a deranged man, were not their sister's keeper — no sir. It was none of their affair if a man with a knife wanted to carve up a woman at leisure; it took 35 minutes and three assaults to finish the job.

AN ASSAULT like his could happen anywhere.

It could happen in another big city, a small city, a village, the country.

But could it happen anywhere with 38 people crossing to the other side of the road to avoid involvement?

This is what everybody wonders about. Has it become unsafe to live in New York City, not only because of the violence that seethes in its teeming masses but because of the sudden apathy in the consciences of people calloused by violence?

The potentiality of violence cannot be worked out by equation.

But it can be guessed at. In how many places would 38 human beings knowingly, coldly and deliberately refuse to call the police to stop an assault on a woman screaming, "Oh, my God, he stabbed me. Please help me! Please help me!"

This incredible thing happened in Kew Gardens, where houses are in the $35,000 to $60,000 range.

Life in the big city. Who cares about it?

Next One to Watch

In Wisconsin, where strange politics is legendary, they're calling the presidential primary contest between the Wisconsin governor, John W. Reynolds, and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace, the strangest ever.

The idea of an Alabama "segregationist" and "nullificationist" coming into a state with a long history of liberalism to challenge a favorite-son candidate in a presidential primary is almost beyond belief.

The projection of the idea—that Gov. Wallace will be bidding in Wisconsin's presidential primary for Republican votes, though he is an "unreconstructed" Democrat, is so far beyond belief that the significance of the outcome is just beginning to dawn on political bird-watchers.

Wisconsin has no Negro problem. Its Negroes are scattered. Many communities have no Negro residents. The state prides itself on having jealously guarded the principle of equal opportunity. So what is Gov. Wallace fishing for so far away from Alabama?

He is fishing for a possible reaction in the Wisconsin primary April 7 that would embarrass civil rights proponents in the federal government. A substantial Wallace vote would be a rebuff to integration.

The cold fact is that integration is a hot political issue. The civil rights bill is only one result, not a man cause, of the heat it has generated.

Politicians are going to rise and fall according to their stand on integration. That is the way it has been in the Deep South since Reconstruction.

Alabama's Gov. Wallace has had the temerity to transplant the issue into Wisconsin. If it takes root there and thrives, the shape of politics will be affected for years to come.

Matter of Design

By Truman Twill

I have been looking at the mockup of the Lunar Excursion Module that will carry three U.S. astronauts moonward and back to earth safely, we hope.

The contraption weighs 15 tons and stands 20 feet high. It will be lodged in the belly of an Apollo spacecraft lobbed into orbit around the moon and ejected for a landing on the moon's surface. Its long spindly legs and huge spongy feet will hold it in position while the spacemen shovel up 100 pounds of moon dust—we hope.

After three hours the astronauts will leave the bottom part of the module on the moon's surface, take off in the upper part, rejoin the Apollo spacecraft and, if all goes well, return to earth.

I HADN'T THOUGHT about our 1925 Essex for years until I looked at this contraption. It will look as quaint to space explorers of the future as the Essex and other autos of the era look today.

In truth, the Essex represented a modern trend. It was the first auto put together as a unit. Previously, all autos were a combination of chassis and a separate body.

Today all old cars look grotesque. They look ludicrous. Moderns chortle and wonder why it took so long to make them look as they look today.

Well, moderns, hold tight. They won't look like this tomorrow. In the span of a generation they will be side-splitting.

THERE ARE NO absolutes in designing. Take houses. For a time everybody wanted horizontal houses, with everything on one floor. What's happening? Young couples now are buying old-fashioned vertical houses, with things on three or four floors. Ideal for raising children. Keeping dogs, keeping sane, having company. Storing things.

So what if anything looks odd as long as it does what is required of it?

The moon module may not work. We had problems with the Essex. People had problems with Studebakers, even with Henry Ford's economy vehicles. But on the whole they worked well. They did what was required of them.

I CAN MAKE only one heartfelt criticism of the Lunar Excursion Module. It has Old Glory and United States painted on its side.

Don't misunderstand, patriots, but I doubt if Old Glory and the United States will matter much if space exploration reveals what some of us have concluded must be true on a basis of reason—that earth and its little creatures are only a whisper in the crashing symphony of the universe.

We'd better realize that whoever makes contact first is going to represent all of us—and let's be thankful it won't be Enos, the chimpanzee.

Just a Song At Twilight

Where's the Logic In It?

By VICTOR RIESEL

Victor Riesel

What follows here is not intended to visit the inequities of the fathers upon the children, but to tear the lid off the unreported story of Poland's trafficking with our enemy in the Caribbean while we officially befriend Warsaw behind the Iron Curtain.

It has not been reported in the U. S., but our intelligence people know that on Feb. 3 Poland and Cuba signed a trade pact calling on the Poles to provide the Castro regime with strategic, industrial material.

Under the trans-oceanic Communist agreement, Poland will send to Cuba electric motors and "equipment" of a similar nature — machine tools, hand tools, laboratory apparatus, activated carbon, rolled steel products, textiles and agricultural industrial factory machinery.

AN INTELLIGENCE report states that "machines and installations necessary for developing Cuban industry, as well as for the transportation and mechanization of agriculture constitute the basic Polish exports (to Cuba)."

This is only part of the deal. What is ironic is the little known fact that Poland buys such equipment in the United States. Thus, while one of our State Department officers tours Europe attempting to argue Western governments into cutting off sales to Cuba, we supply Poland which, in turn, sends similar supplies to Fidel Castro's regime. 'Tis a puzzle to some of us here in the United States.

For example, few of our citizenry know that in the last year Poland's central purchasing trust has bought the following items from the U.S.:

"Electronic industrial process control instruments, telecommunications apparatus, electronic testing machines, gear cutting machines with accessories, information processing machines and parts, metal cutting machine tools and accessories, scientific measuring and controlling instruments, metal working equipment, audio transformers, synthetic rubber, copper alloy wire, electron tubes, electronic PH recorders and accessories, spectrum measuring instruments, chemicals, electrical steel sheets, electrical measuring and controlling instruments."

THIS SEEMS to grow more absurd the deeper I go into the report. The U. S. Department of Commerce has approved the sale of American textile machinery to Poland, and Poland, under the new pact, sends finished textiles to Cuba.

The U. S. issues export licenses for the sale of scientific, optical, medical measuring and controlling instruments and organic and inorganic chemicals to Poland. Then Warsaw sells laboratory apparatus to Cuba.

Our government spends millions trying to counteract Castro's propaganda inside Cuba and build a fifth column of anti-Communists on that island. But Cuba has become Poland's biggest customer in the "purchasing" of radios. More than 41,000 receivers were sent by Poland to Havana during 1963 — and certainly not because Castro wanted his people to tune in to the Beatles singing in Miami.

Our government, further, creates a blacklist of Cuba-bound ships which will not be permitted to enter U. S. ports, but we deal with Poland, though its merchant fleet sails regularly from Gdynia to Havana. I have a list of at least 12 of these Polish vessels which are exclusively on the Poland-Cuba run.

THE POLICY of our government is based on the effort to weaken Cuba's export of guns and terrorists by "starving" the island.

Our ally, Venezuela, cries out for a blockade of Cuba, whose agents are blasting its streets and much U. S. property there. Yet Poland has sent "technicians and professors" to Cuba to help build its shipyards for swift repair of Cuban craft.

In addition, Cuban youths go regularly to "polytechnical institutes" in Poland for training in such craftsmanship.

"These Cuban youths," says an intelligence report, "on returning to their country will go to work in the new ship repair yards which have been built with Polish help."

For our compassion, for our money, for our vast quantities of surplus food which a score of other nations need as desperately, the Communist Polish government helps Castro build his island fortress.

If there is logic in this, perhaps someone here should take the trouble to explain to "we the people."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This morning my sister unfolded a story so bizarre it would be rejected as a plot for a grade C movie.

June (not her real name) has been married for six years and has wanted a family from the first. Her husband is an only child and his parents have been dying for a grandchild.

Five months ago June made the joyful announcement that she was pregnant. Everyone was thrilled for her. She went into maternity clothes and flat-heeled shoes almost immediately.

Last night at a family party June seemed to be filling out her maternity skirt fairly well so I made the quiet suggestion that she release her skirt. She appeared nervous and replied, "I must talk to you about this."

This morning she confessed. She is not pregnant and never was. Even her husband is fooled. When I inquired about the "added weight" she said she had tied a sofa cushion around her middle.

I asked how she planned to get away with it and she said she hoped to go to New York, adopt a baby and bring it back as her own.

She now realizes her scheme is unrealistic and she's becoming panicky. How can she unwind this wild plan with the minimum of embarrassment?

Dear S. D.: June should announce at once (like tomorrow) that no baby is on the way. Such announcements are not uncommon. If noisy friends or relatives ask why, how, etc., she can refuse to discuss the details.

Wrong Name Dropper

Dear Ann: I have the most wonderful dad in the world but he has one fault that embarrasses the daylight out of me. He can't get a name straight.

I've been going with the same kids for years. He should know their names as well as he knows mine. Yet he calls Bob "Bill," Cheryl is "Shirley" and Betty is "Barbara." Sometimes he will refer to the same fellows by three different names in a single conversation.

Last night when my date arrived — a boy I've been going with for two years — he said, "Hello, Fred. I saw your father over at the Elks Club yesterday."

The fellow replied, "My name is Don. My father has been in the hospital for two weeks."

I know my dad does not do this intentionally. He tries to make my guests feel at home. What can be done about this? — M. BARRASSED.

Dear M: Ask your dad if he'll just skip names. If he wants to be friendly he can smile more — and keep his lip zipped.

The Parting Line

Dear Ann: Will you please tell me why, after a date, a fellow will say, "I had a wonderful time. I'm going to call you again soon." The girl believes him and waits and waits for that call — and it never comes.

If a boy doesn't want to ask a girl out again, that's his privilege. But why does he lie and say he'll call? I wish a fellow would be honest and not say anything but "good night" if he doesn't care to see a girl again.

Please print this letter and an explanation if you have one. Thank you.—MISS DANKLING.

Dear Miss Dankling: When a fellow takes a girl to the door after a date it would be quite a shock if he said, "I had a lousy time. You'll never hear from me again." So most fellows do the polite thing. They say they had a good time and will call again. Believe it when you hear him on the line.

Scranton's Move

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Throughout the country, in Republican political circles, there is a general expectation that Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania in the next few days will make an announcement which will be construed as encouraging his supporters to become active in obtaining for him the Republican presidential nomination at the convention in July.

The Pennsylvania governor has been under pressure from his friends to make an unequivocal statement — telling clearly his intentions. This is because of widespread comment among professional politicians that Gov. Scranton cannot afford to remain silent any longer if he really wants the nomination.

Naturally, the admirers of Gov. Scranton think he would make a good candidate, and the mention of the availability of Mr. Scranton has indeed evoked a good deal of comment in political circles and in the press but the fact remains that Mr. Scranton is relatively unknown. His views on public policies, especially current issues, have not been disclosed in any detail, nor is there any general familiarity with his qualifications to be president.

One professional politician on the Republican side sized up, for this correspondent, the situation as being largely related to seven big states — New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and California.

HE SAYS the Republicans must win in four of these and that the Republican candidate is most likely going to be the man who can carry at least four of the seven.

Ohio and Illinois are believed to be leaning strongly in the Republican direction. New York is a state considered by many Republicans to be in the doubtful class.

So the question finally resolves itself into who has the best chance to carry Pennsylvania, California, Michigan and New Jersey. This is where Gov. Scranton comes under consideration, because he is known in Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

The California primaries on June 2 will, of course, have an important bearing on the whole Republican contest. If Sen. Goldwater of Arizona, for example, carries the California primaries, he will continue among the front runners.

Many politicians are saying privately, on the other hand, that even if Gov. Rockefeller were to win in California, he would not be able to get a majority in the convention.

THERE SEEMS to be a sentiment among some of the professionals who are not identified with any of the various candidates that the New York governor will not be able to win the nomination largely because of the feeling inside the party that the resentment among women voters over his divorce and remarriage would constitute too big an obstacle in the November election.

The two men who may eventually emerge as the candidates are former Vice President Nixon and Gov. Scranton. This is one reason why it is being openly stated by many politicians that, if Gov. Scranton doesn't do something soon, the big prize will fall into Mr. Nixon's lap without much effort.

One of the most interesting aspects of the Republican race is the talk that is going around about the impact of the Democratic vice-presidential nomination on the Republican chances of winning the election.

It's frequently stated, for instance, by some of the professional politicians that, if Attorney General Kennedy is nominated for the vice presidency on the Democratic ticket, President Johnson will not be able to carry the South, and he may lose strength in many of the Northern states. Although the civil rights bill has been widely advertised as popular in the North, there are signs that a good many of the voters there have been antagonized by it.

AS FAR as the South is concerned, the suggestion that the attorney general might be rewarded with the vice presidency for his recent efforts to enforce civil rights is one that gives many Southerners pause. The practical politicians say that President Johnson is going to have to make the big decision, and, being a realist, he may conclude that, with the help of the Democratic senators and representatives and the state organizations, he can carry the South anyhow and will need Bobby Kennedy to help win some of the populous states of the North.

Republicans say, if this happens, the race will be closer than it might be if Sen. Humphrey, for example, were the Democratic nominee for vice president.

The supporters of Mr. Nixon are convinced that, in the final analysis, he will go to the convention with more strength than appears on the surface. The important argument on the Nixon side is that he was for eight years vice president of the United States and that he lost in 1960 by a narrow margin.

TO COUNTER this, proponents of other candidates declare that the country is not interested in the past, but in new faces. The big question is, however, how familiar will they be with the various candidates by convention time.

If Gov. Scranton announces his candidacy soon and makes a few speeches, the voters will at least have several weeks in which to become familiar with the Pennsylvania governor and decide whether the new face is satisfactory.

Hints From

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Folks: Yesterday, to my great joy, a friend brought me some daffodils from her garden. That first sign of spring delighted me.

As I was putting them in water would be in different colors to match my room.

Here's what I did: I got out my food coloring and went "blub-blub" (that means about 10 to 15 drops) into a small jar and added two tablespoons of water. I put green food coloring in one small jar and red in another jar.

I then cut off the stems of the flowers straight across (so they could absorb the liquid in the jar, and placed the daffodils in this colored water. Within a few hours these daffodils started to change color, first around the edges of the petals, then gradually all over the bloom.

THE GREEN coloring brought bright green tips and veins to the flower, and the red gives a red and yellow variegated effect. They look so delicate and so beautiful!

After these two batches of flowers were the exact shade I wanted, I removed them from the dye bath, took a sharp knife and cut one-half inch off the stems (this prevents them from not only getting darker but staining the vase you will put them in later) and then MIXED the remaining red and blue dyes together and put the rest of the yellow flowers in this. Then watch what color you get! From lavender to purple according to the amount of red and blue you use.

THE FLOWERS may be kept in one-colored bouquets or mixed. Oh... luscious.

The food coloring does not harm the flower or shorten the life of it. The length of time you leave the flowers in the coloring, depends on how deep you want the color. (I left one batch in overnight, and even the stems turned color!)

One could have a lot of fun, coloring white flowers, to match your color scheme when throwing a party!

LOVE, HELOISE.

Carol Murphy in Mt. Union Recital

Carol Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Murphy, 534 W. 6th St., will present a joint coronet and piano recital with senior coronet major Kenneth Ferris of Minerva, April 7 at 8:15 p.m. at the Mount Union College Rodman Playhouse.

The program will open with A. Angelo Cerelli's "Sonata VIII" for both piano and coronet.

Miss Murphy will be featured in "Intermezzo in E Major" by Brahms and "Ce qu'a vu le vent d'ouest" and La Cathedrale Engloutie" by Debussy. She will conclude with "Toccata" by Rorem.

Berghmans' "La Chenille" and Hindemith's "Sonata" will be presented by both students.

A Mount Union College junior organ major, Miss Murphy is the organist for all chapel services and the accompanist for the chorale, largest campus musical organization. She has studied organ for four years and piano for 12 years.

Camp Fire News

Autumn Bluebird Group Members of the Autumn Group of Bluebirds recently visited the Sanor Maple Syrup Farm and learned how the syrup was made.

Other activities of the group included a tour of the local fire and police stations, a tea for girls of the first grade at Prospect Street School and their mothers, when Mrs. John Meltschka and Mrs. Nick Yakabek assisted; made corsages for the teachers at Prospect Street School in honor of National School Day, under the direction of Mrs. Richard Smith, and participated in the window display project and newspaper publicity for Camp Fire Birthday Week.

Mrs. Robert Lodge is guardian of the group.

DEAR HELOISE: I personally dislike the usual lace chair "tidies," so I buy luncheon sets (they come in a variety of colors, patterns and materials) and use the place mat on the back of the chair and the napkins on the arms of the chair and sofa. Sort of "instant slip covers!"

MAYRE B. MACKENDRICK.

DEAR HELOISE: I use an egg poacher to warm my baby's prepared canned foods; the three or four trays are adequate for baby's meal. This saves washing several slightly dirty, and larger pans.

MOTHER.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Beauty for the asking

By JOSEPHINE KAERCHER, Beauty Consultant

MERLE NORMAN COSMETICS STUDIO

When your business is beauty, and mine certainly is, you have to be on top of fashion trends.

Take lipsticks, for instance. The "no-lipstick" look, according to experts, is absolutely gone. In its place are the beautiful clear colors—bright, but not gaudy; coordinated, rather than matched to the latest costume colors.

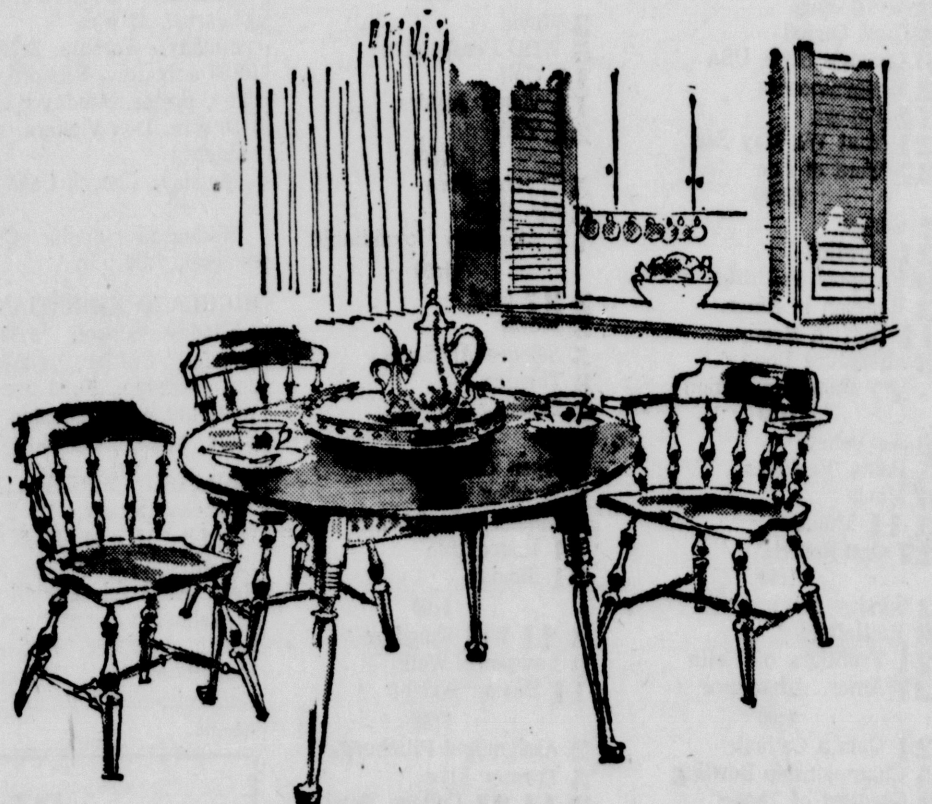

And, your very own mouth, without exaggerated outlines, is high fashion's latest happy edict. If you're not a dyed-in-the-wool lipstick-brush user, you can still get the same neat lip-outlines with a new easy-to-use lip-liner in a slim gold case.

Down-turned, upturned or pressed thin, your lips reveal almost as much about your personality as your eyes. The wrong color lipstick can harden your whole face. Let an expert help you select your new lipstick wardrobe. I'll be delighted to help.

Once you've chosen a lipstick color best suited to your needs, select a matching lip-liner. Carefully trace the outer lip line with the softly pointed liner. Complete lip makeup with the newest double-triple-creamy lipstick.

For dramatic effect, use two shades—a light liner and darker lipstick, or vice versa. Incidentally, this new double-triple-creamy formula has wonderful staying power, despite the fact that it was created especially to keep your lips kissably moist and smooth, but never greasy.

If you're wondering about the rest of your makeup, write or phone me and let's get together for a free hour of beauty. O.K.?

Robin on a Jaq

By JAY WEST
For Hal Boyle

LAUREL, Miss. (AP)—If you see a drunken robin reeling around in your yard these spring days, please take it into your house until it sobers up and can resume its flight northward.

It is likely intoxicated with the fermented juice around seeds from the chinaberry tree, pulpy covering and it is this that ferments and causes enough alcohol to put red robin on a jaq.

When the robin gets enough to start reeling it loses wing power and is a likely prey for natural enemies—cats and dogs.

In defense of the drunken robin it should be told that for most of the year it feeds soberly on seeds from dogwood, cnoke berries, juniper berries and small fruits.

But when time comes for the spring trip from south to north, about all that is left is the chinaberry. Spring rains have soaked the berries. The warm sun has fermented them.

Some bird watchers are of the opinion the robin is not naturally inclined toward drunkenness. It's just that the alcohol-soaked chinaberries are he only food it can find.

The chinaberry tree is a native of the Southern states and Mexico. In its wild state, it seldom grows north of the southernmost Tennessee line. That is why most bird lovers in the North have never seen a drunken robin. The chinaberry is cultivated in a lot of Southern yards as an ornamental tree and because of its heavy shade.

So kind sir, if you will, please pick up the robin after its yearly binge and let it sober up until it is able to fly north.

It should be protected because it has the strongest personality of all birddom, despite its spring toddy.

John Burroughs, the naturalist, described it as the "most native and democratic" of all birds in the United States. The robin's song is pleasant and highly varied.

In the North, in the summertime, it is seen singly, or near its mate, hunting for the early worm. But in the winter it travels to the Gulf Coast where it lives with big, friendly flocks in the piney woods.

Baby Needs Love, Patience

Eruptions of baby teeth are important events in the life of every family. They change your baby's feeding habits and bowel movements and make him considerably more difficult to live with. Also they are tangible signs that your infant is growing up.

By the time the first teeth begin to show themselves, gum tissue covering them has been toughened by six months of chewing everything in sight. Relentless pressure by these razor sharp teeth pushing on this toughened gum tissue causes much pain and sometimes swelling and infection.

DURING THIS teething struggle your child may be frequently afflicted with mysterious rashes and fevers. In absence of a readily recognized rash which confirms a particular disease, many rashes and fevers and bad tempers are blamed on teething. This may very well be the answer to many undiagnosed health problems which seem to reach a height at about age 14 months when the deciduous or baby first molars appear.

This is a difficult and painful period in your child's life. Patience, understanding and love of a mother are so very important.

DO NOT BE alarmed if your baby's teeth do not arrive according to Dr. Spock's schedule. My daughter's first tooth did not appear until her 13th month and there wasn't much I could do about it. Lancing gums is sometimes successfully done to hasten eruption of a

'Old Men' In House Blasted

Age Limit of 70 on Members Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A first-term congressman who thinks there are too many old men running things in the House wants members barred from seeking re-election after 70.

"A lot of these old men are in their dotage," said Rep. Everett G. Burkhalter, D-Calif., Thursday. "They're living in the last century."

Burkhalter, at 67, is no pink-cheeked freshman. He had planned to cap a 20-year career in California public life with about three terms in Congress, but has become so discouraged at bucking the rigid seniority system he is retiring after this session.

"I could see I wasn't going to get any place," he told an interviewer. "Nobody listens to what you have to say until you've been here 10 or 12 years. These old men have got everything so tied down you can't do anything."

Burkhalter said he never realized how few people ran Congress until he moved in as a freshman in 1962.

"There are only about 40 out of the 435 members who call the shots," he said. "They're the committee chairmen and the ranking members and they're all around 70 or 80."

Before he leaves he plans to introduce a bill that would lengthen the term of representatives from two years to four, limit them to four terms and bar them from seeking election after reaching 70.

With the House taking a spring recess, Burkhalter's blast echoed down largely silent corridors, but two of the "old men" he had in mind leaped mimbly into the fray.

Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., 83, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said the age of a congressman is of concern only to his constituency. "If they think he's too old, they'll put him out, but if they think they want experience instead of brawn and vigor, they'll keep him in," he said.

Cannon added that Burkhalter's proposal for an age limit on re-election would require a constitutional amendment inasmuch as the Constitution leaves the setting of such standards to the states.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., 76, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, turned to Henry Wadsworth Longfellow for his ammunition.

Quoting from the poet's Mortuaria Salutamus, he said: "Ah, nothing is late until the tired heart shall cease to palpitate."

before he was sentenced to eight years in prison and fined $10,000.

O'Brien has been in Chattanooga since the trial and seeking affidavits in an effort to win a new trial for Hoffa. The Teamsters leader and three others were convicted of trying to tamper with the jury which heard Hoffa's 1962 conspiracy trial in Nashville. That case ended in a mistrial.

Special Prosecutor John J. Hooker of Nashville said earlier that Mrs. Key, 60, treasurer of the Tennessee Federation of Negro Women's Clubs, had been approached with a bribe offer, and turned it down. Mrs. Key was the only Negro on the jury.

The indictment was the first returned by a grand jury investigating events during and since the trial. The jury which has recessed until April 13, has heard testimony from Bernard E. Spindel, a professional wiretapper, and several employees at the Read House Hotel.

Spindel, an electronics expert from New York, was hired by defense lawyers during the trial to try to prove that FBI agents spied on Hoffa. He testified he monitored conversations between government agents watching Hoffa's hotel.

2 Palestine Youths Injured In Crash

Two East Palestine youths were injured when their car struck a tree at the intersection of Routes 164 and 626 in Mahoning County Thursday at 6:05 p.m.

The mishap stemmed from an obvious attempt to escape a collision with another car left of center, the Canfield barracks of the State Highway Patrol reported.

Hurt were the driver, David K. Watt, 18, of 277 W. North Ave., lacerations of the scalp and possible sprained back, and his companion, Steve Hirt, 17, of 405 W. North Ave., contusions of the upper leg. They were not treated.

The patrol said Watt, heading south on Route 626, was coming around a curve when a vehicle going north crowded the Palestine auto. To avoid striking the oncoming vehicle, Watt applied his brakes, skidded left of center on the wet pavement, veered off the left side of the road and struck a tree a half mile south of Five Points.

Boy, 6, Runs Into Side of Automobile

A six-year-old W. Pershing St. boy apparently was uninjured when he walked into the side of an auto at the intersection of Lundy Ave. and E. Pershing St. Thursday at 3:30 p.m.

According to police, Anthony Frank, 48, of 772 W. Wilson St. was turning his auto onto Pershing from Lundy when Eddie Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Bell of 162 W. Pershing St., ran into the right side of his auto.

The boy was to be taken to a doctor for examination today, his mother said.

days at Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

His blood pressure and pulse, previously reported as indicating a loss of heart efficiency, were last reported within normal limits "considering his age and sedation."

During his waking hours, the general retains consciousness although he is under sedation.

Doctors Thursday pressed in to operation a technique which could temporarily take over part of the kidney functions.

The technique, called peritoneal dialysis, is aimed at drawing off the poisonous waste products building up in the general's blood that ordinarily would be filtered out by the kidneys.

The hope is that the kidneys will begin functioning again, for the flushing action of the artificial technique is efficient only as a temporary aid. There is always the danger after perhaps two days of use that infection might enter into the peritoneum. To help stem possible infection that could spread rapidly in the blood-rich abdominal area, doctors used antibiotics along with the fluid chemicals of the artificial kidney process.

In the Senate Thursday, Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., interrupted the civil rights debate with an appeal for consideration of a resolution by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., to confer six-star rank on the general.

Symington's resolution, introduced last December, has the support of 27 other senators. Still, it appears blocked in the Armed Services Committee.

George Strickland Named Indians' Acting Manager

Loses Debut Contest 4-3

Will Follow Policy Of Ailing Pilot

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—George Strickland, elevated from coach to acting manager of the Cleveland Indians, says he thinks he can do the job the way Birdie Tebbetts would want.

"I've learned an awful lot of baseball from him and respect Birdie as one of the greatest managers in the game today," Strickland said Thursday.

He took over the Indians' helm after Tebbetts, 54, had a heart attack late Wednesday night. Tebbetts reportedly will be hospitalized six weeks and how long it will be before he returns to the club is uncertain now.

After announcing that Strickland, 38, would handle the club, General Manager Gabe Paul said, "Birdie is still the manager of this ball club. Strickland will follow the policies and procedures of Birdie."

Strickland, a former Cleveland shortstop, is making a big move from third base coach. He has no managerial experience and only two seasons as a coach—one with the Minnesota Twins and last year with the Indians.

But Strickland is thoroughly familiar with Tebbetts' policies and with his philosophy of managing. He is highly respected for his knowledge of the game and is said to get along well with the players.

Strickland made an unsuccessful managerial debut Thursday. The Indians lost, 4-3, to the San Francisco Giants here. The Tribe plays the Giants again today in Nogales, Mexico.

"We're all going to have to work a little bit harder," said Strickland.

His Big Bat Paces Milwaukee To 7-5 Triumph

Torre Angry With Braves Officials, Is Batting .500

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Milwaukee officials don't mind if Joe Torre remains angry with them the entire season. They wouldn't even mind trying the same tactics next season — if the final results this year are as profitable as the beginning.

For Torre, however, a repeat performance by the Braves' management wouldn't be profitable. That's what made him angry this year. He arrived at camp about three weeks late following a long contract hassle with President John McHale.

Now after only two weeks, the 23-year-old catcher-first baseman is batting .500. His two-run homer in the 11th inning powered the Braves to a 7-5 triumph over Pittsburgh Thursday, their 13th in 16 exhibition games. The winning blow was Torre's fourth hit of the day.

Torre, whose brother, Frank, also played for the Braves, accepted less money than he wanted after deciding "I wasn't going to let one man spoil my career." He referred to McHale.

The Brooklyn native reportedly signed for about $25,000. McHale said he had asked for a 100 per cent increase over his 1963 salary of $17,500.

In his third year with Milwaukee, Torre batted .293, the best average among catchers in the major leagues.

Houston's Jim Wynn also came through in an extra-inning effort, smashing a 12th-inning grand-slam home run which gave the Colts an 8-4 victory against the New York Mets.

Wynn also had a two-run homer in the eighth that tied the game.

Six of the other seven exhibition contests were decided by one run. Only Cincinnati's 8-3 triumph over Detroit was not a close game.

St. Louis handed Sandy Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers a 2-1 setback while Minnesota rallied in the eighth for a 2-1 victory against the New York Yankees. Philadelphia

Smith Boxes Rodriguez In TV Bout

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jesse Smith, former ranking welterweight on the comeback trail, says the 2-1 odds against him in tonight's bout with title contender Luis Rodriguez are nothing to worry about.

"I never fought a guy I didn't think I could whip," said Smith, who was dropped from rankings after a seven-month layoff last year.

In 44 fights, Smith has knocked out 24 opponents in his 36 victories. Ring veterans remember the Philadelphia boxer as the one who rocked former heavyweight champion Sonny Liston with powerful left hooks nipped Kansas City in still another 2-1 game on John Herrnstein's ninth-inning single.

Dick Dietz' single in the ninth carried San Francisco over Cleveland 4-3, three walks by rookie Wally Bunker in the ninth paved the way for the Chicago White Sox' 8-7 triumph against Baltimore and the Los Angeles Angels squeezed by the Chicago Cubs 6-5, giving Ken McBride his fourth decision.

during a 1959 training stint.

But the Cuban-born Rodriguez now fighting out of Miami, picked Smith for a tune-up fight to prepare for his June 12 title bout with champion Emile Grif-fith.

He is hunting his 56th victory in 60 fights having won all but one of his last 14 contests since 1961.

The 10-round fight was scheduled for national television (ABC) with Miami blacked out.

Tebbetts In Satisfactory Condition, Has Some Tissue Damage To Heart

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts was reported "in satisfactory condition and doing well" early today, but doctors still wouldn't make any predictions as to when the Cleveland Indians manager would return to action.

The attending physician at St. Mary's Hospital, where Tebbetts was taken Wednesday night after a heart attack, said tests indicate there has been "some tissue damage." The doctor said no one can make positive statements about a coronary for four or five days.

The 54-year-old manager was described as resting well and not in pain.

Tebbetts was stricken while at the hotel the Tribe calls home during its annual spring training stay in Tucson.

His wife, Mary, said he complained of intense chest pains after a late dinner. He was hospitalized about an hour later.

Earlier in the day, Tebbetts put the Indians through a lengthy workout, then took time out for a round of golf.

Tebbetts, manager of the Indians since the end of the 1962 season, went on a weight-losing campaign last June.

In September, he reportedly stepped up his efforts when his brother, William, suffered a fatal heart attack.

Although doctors refused to say when Tebbetts might be ready for action, Indian officials emphasized that the manager would not attempt to return until he definitely is recovered.

"I know one thing for sure," said Tribe president and general manager Gabe Paul. "He is not going to come back to endanger his health."

Paul predicted, after talking with the doctors, that Tebbetts would be hospitalized about six weeks. Paul added, "I do not see how anyone can expect Birdie to be back in less than two months."

Third base coach George Strickland has been named acting manager while Tebbetts is recovering.

Shoots Course In 7-Under-Par

Snead Leads Greensboro Open By 3 Strokes With 64 Round

By KEN ALYTA

Associated Press Sports Writer
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus hadn't been born back in 1938 when Sam Snead won the inaugural Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament for the first of his seven victories in Greensboro.

Young Jack, now a powerful 24-year-old, had a good look at 51-year-old Sam Thursday as the PGA senior champion shot eight birdies and grabbed a three-stroke first-round lead with a superb seven-under-par 64.

Nicklaus was to get another good look at Sam today. They were paired together for the first two rounds of the 72-hole tournament.

Nicklaus, sharpening his game for next week's defense of the Masters championship, had this to say of the old master after he had posted a 70 to trail Sam by six shots:

"Sam is amazing. He has enough nerve to play shots the way they should be played. Some men at his age play what you might call 'skinny' golf. But he keeps hitting the ball close to the pin. He is amazing."

When Nicklaus won the Masters last spring, Snead was only two strokes off the pace in a third-place tie. He has won the classic three times, the last in 1954.

Although he has curtailed his tournament play sharply in recent years, the old slammer from the Virginia hills has been amazingly sharp in his few appearances.

He has taken away more than $27,000 from Greensboro, where his record includes seven victories and eight seconds or thirds.

His 64 Thursday was good for a $400 bonus check, awarded daily for the low round.

Sam had one three-putt green for his only bogey and had four birdies on each side of the 7,000-yard Sedgefield Country Club course, with par of 36-35.

Starting today's play, Australian Bill Dunk and George Bayer were in second place at 67, one shot in front of U.S. Open champion Julius Boros.

Six men shared fifth place at 69, among them British Open champ Bob Charles and Gene Littler.

Joining Nicklaus at 70 were six men, including Arnold Palmer. Still without a victory this year, Palmer started the first three holes three over par, then unleashed seven birdies.

W.Branch Coaches To Be Selected

This month will tell the story on the new football and basketball coaches at West Branch High School where 40 men from four states have sent applications for the posts.

"We interviewed four football coaches Saturday and have four more on tap to talk to tomorrow," executive head Clinton Heacock said today.

The screening committee has been concentrating most heavily on the selection of a grid mentor since the Warrior practice season is only five months away.

Many of the football coaches are presently aides at high schools, some of them recognized Buckeye scholastic powers.

The committee hopes to make its selection of both coaches by the first part of May.

Heacock said 24 men have applied for the football coaching job and 16 for the basketball coaching post. Although most of the applicants are from all parts of Ohio, others have applied from Pennsylvania and West Virginia and in football, one from faraway Wisconsin.

Two members of the current West Branch coaching staff have applied and one is expected to soon file his application, Heacock said.

The closing date for applications is April 20 and the selection is expected to be made in the 10-day period thereafter.

The new men will fill vacancies created by the resignations of Joe Tucker as head basketball coach and Ron Dierks as head football coach in March.

Both men are still on the staff, Tucker as athletic director and teacher and Dierks as gym and classroom instructor.

Celtics Dump Cincy Again In Playoffs

By BOB HOOBING
BOSTON (AP)—"We just laid down," said frustrated Cincinnati Coach Jack McMahon. "If we get this kind of performance, I don't expect we'll win again. The Celtics will sweep us in four."

McMahon held his post-mortem outside the wake-like Royals' dressing room Thursday night after Boston defeated his team 101-90 and took a commanding 2-0 lead in the Eastern Division playoff final.

The best-of-seven National Basketball Association series now moves to Cincinnati Sunday and Tuesday nights. No team in NBA playoff annals ever has been down 0-2 in a seven-game set and pulled it out.

St. Louis, which entered the Western Division final as the underdog, takes a one-game edge into Friday night's second contest at San Francisco.

"The Celtics were aggressive," McMahon said. "We wouldn't even go after a loose ball. I'm disgusted with this team. On switches when a Boston player got by, my boys would say 'oops,' shrug and then figure it wasn't their responsibility any more."

"Look, we're the highest-scoring team in the league and we've got 87 and 90 points in the playoffs. Are they tired? How the devil can they be tired?"

"I said Jerry Lucas was 30 per cent with that back condition. Heck, he's not even 10 per cent. He looks like he's afraid to bounce the ball. He must be in pain. He keeps telling me he can play, but he can't."

"Jack Twyman had a good shooting game with 27 points but he gave up that many on defense. Oscar Robertson got 30? He'll get that many if he just gets the ball."

"I think that K.C. Jones of the Celtics is your star. He hustled, he worked the ball in and gave Boston a great game."

"K. C. Jones was great, the whole show," echoed Lucas. "I never before played a game in my life when I didn't score at least one basket."

Lucas was held to three free throws and seven rebounds. "They played a good ball game, we played a better one," commented Boston Coach Red Auerbach. "We certainly aren't overconfident by any stretch of the imagination."

Tommy Heinsoph got 31 points and Sam Jones 25 to pace Boston scoring.

Jones Stars In Olympic Cage Trials

NEW YORK (AP)—The NCAA emerged as the team to beat and Villanova's flashy Wally Jones as one of the brightest stars after first-round action in the U.S. Olympic basketball trials.

"Oh, but what a pair they'd make," UCLA Coach John Wooden said today. "Just imagine Jones and (Walt) Hazzard in the same backcourt. They'd make somebody sit up and take notice."

Jones, a fancy playmaker with all the moves, piloted the Reds to a whopping 86-63 decision over the Armed Forces Missiles Thursday in a first-round game at St. John's University and delighted the crowd with his spectacular ball handling and passing.

In the other first-rounders, the AAU Stars upset the NCAA Blues 82-76; the NCAA Whites beat the Armed Forces Jets 74-64 and the NAIA All-Stars edged the AAU Stripes 77-74.

Actually, the team scores make but little difference since the Olympic Selection Committee will make its choices by individuals rather than by teams. In all, 94 players from throughout the country are competing for the 12 Olympic berths, plus six alternates.

Toronto Evens NHL Playoffs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
General Manager - Coach George (Punch) Imlach, the Toronto Maple Leaf major domo who has guided his charges to two straight National Hockey League Stanley Cup titles, may have found the key to another championship in a movie theater of all places.

Imlach, a devotee of Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, took his Leafs to the movies after they had dropped the third game of their playoff series to Montreal Tuesday. The picture was "One Man's Way," the life story of Dr. Peale, author of "The Power of Positive Thinking."

The Leafs, who had been shut out four times during the regular season by Montreal goalie Charlie Hodge and again in the opening game of the playoffs, came out breathing fire Thursday night. Frank Mahovlich ignited the explosion with two goals and three assists for a 5-3 Toronto victory tying the series at two games apiece.

Dr. Peale, a peace-loving man might not have approved of the Toronto tactics with two full-fledged brawls marring play, but Imlach couldn't argue with the results.

Major Montreal casualties were Jean Beliveau, limping with possibly torn ligaments in his knee and Henri Richard with a wide cut over his right eye.

OSU's Bradds May Play In Sebring Saturday

Ohio State's All-American Gary Bradds told officials of the Sebring independent basketball tourney today he would appear in the quarter-finals Saturday if Bayless Mobile of Damascus wins tonight.

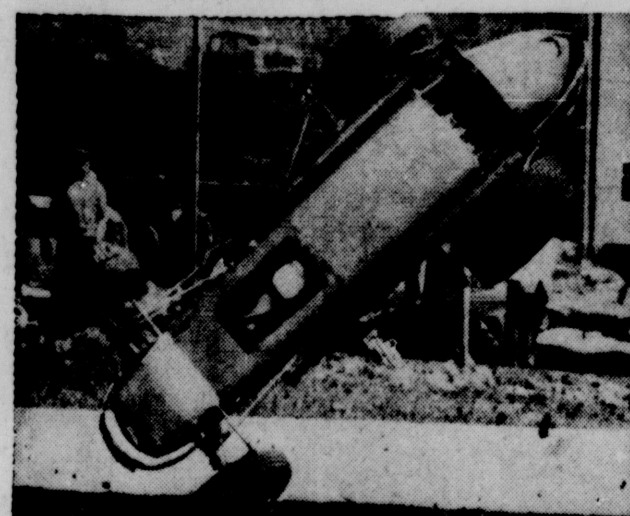

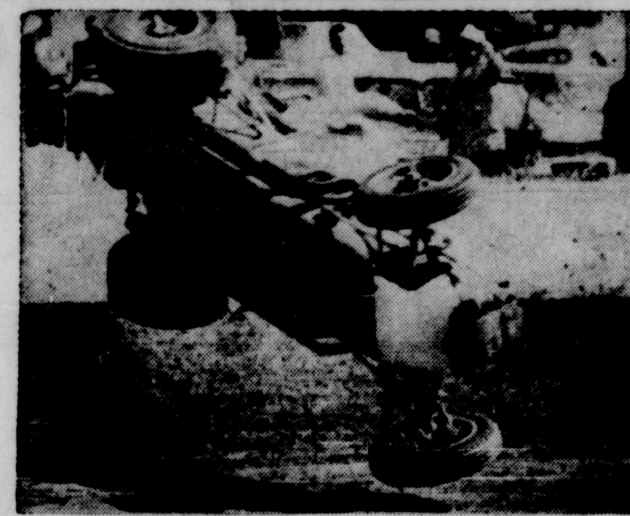

The unit, composed of Dayton and Xavier University stars, meets the OIBC Hornets of Cleveland.

If they win, Bradds will compete with Bayless tomorrow at 1 p.m.

Ceremony

Johnson Will Outline American Attitude Toward NATO

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will outline current American attitudes toward the 15-year-old North Atlantic Treaty Organization at a special White House ceremony late today.

The importance attached to Johnson's address by administration officials apparently was indicated by the fact that television and radio networks were invited to make live broadcasts of the event in the East Room of the executive mansion.

The ceremony comes on the eve of the 15th anniversary of the treaty-signing that created NATO.

George Reedy, White House press secretary, announced the speech Thursday night and said Johnson would discuss "the current status of the alliance and America's attitude" toward it "in the light of the 15th anniversary."

I appeared that the idea for Johnson making an anniversary speech on NATO had spurred-of-the-moment aspects.

Reedy acknowledged "it is not a project of long-standing." He said this after a newsman suggested the plans were devised at noon Thursday — the hour when Johnson met with the National Security Council for a far-ranging review of world affairs.

The United States remains a strong believer in NATO as a deterrent to possible Communist aggression in Europe.

However, French President Charles de Gaulle has been cool toward NATO ever since other that France, Britain, and the tion directorate to lead the or members spurned his suggestion United States set up a three-na- ganization.

Space problems happily solved here!

Families on-the-grow often create the need for more living space. Frequently this can only be obtained by moving into larger quarters. Best solution, in many cases, is to buy a new home of their own. If this raises the question of financing, we have the best answer to that. We'll arrange a Home Loan that can be repaid just like rent. A single monthly repayment is usually set up to include principal, interest and property taxes as well. Cost of the loan is low. Service prompt. Come in, talk it over.

In other cases, the necessary extra living space can be developed right in the family's present home by finishing off extra rooms in attic or basement, enclosing a porch, converting an attached garage. The necessary funds can be obtained on a low-cost Home Loan from us.
